The One Fault.

There was a man
Of history sad,
Whose every plan
Went to the bad.
He did not drink,
He did not swear,
Nor shyly wink
At sirens fair,
Ideals high,
He would reveal
He could not lie,
He did not steal.
His worth you'd vow
Was something strong,
And yet somehow
His luck went wrong.
The hoped-for bliss
He'd never clutch,
His fault was this—
He talked too much.

Dance.

On last evening at the Elks' hall, under the auspices of St. Philip's Guild a delightful dance was given, chaperoned by the ladies of the guild. The Lowenstein orchestra furnished music and refreshing punch was served.

A large crowd was in attendance.

Woodmen Circle.

The Woodmen Circle met yesterday at the hall, balloting upon three new applications, making the total number fifty-five.

The hot weather of the past week is responsible for the slight increase.

Miss Jamie Orme of Healdton is visiting Mrs. Shelton Tye.

Miss Ruth Paul Bogie is visiting in Cleburne and Denton, Texas.

Mrs. C. L. Herbert and Helen Herbert left Saturday for Edmond.

Mrs. Parker and son of Fort Worth are guests of Mrs. Arthur Naylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Brown have rented the R. F. Turner home on G street, S. W.

Miss Bernice Owens left Saturday for Norman to attend the Central State Normal.

Circle Two of the Broadway Methodist church met this afternoon with Mrs. W. S. Wolverton.

Mrs. L. H. Spears is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Duck and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Straight.

Miss Grace Jones left Saturday for Edmond, where she will attend the normal the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tye have returned to Fort Worth after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tye.

HELP FOR WORKING GIRLS

Two Girls Tell Story of Their Illness and How They Found Relief.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

—Miss AMELIA JAQUILLARD, 613 Seventh Street, New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because my periods were suppressed and I had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

—Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., Saint Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Miss Clare Herbert and Mr. Calvin Herbert left Saturday for Enid, where they will matriculate at Phillips university.

Members of the Orlo club will please remember to call at Fraley's Insurance office and receive their year books and questions from Miss Hallette Fraley.

Mrs. I. B. Grubbs left yesterday for Brownwood, Texas, where she will be with the Howard Payne college the coming year. Mr. Carroll, the president, is an old-time friend of Mrs. Grubbs and she anticipates a most pleasant year's work.

Mrs. Homer Wayne, a member of the local Woodmen Circle, is quite ill in Oklahoma City, suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Attendants at the sanitarium say that she is doing as well as she possibly could, after having undergone so serious an operation.

The Chautauqua Idea.

The following splendid paragraphs sum up the mission of the chautauqua organization and the C. L. S. C. (Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle.)

"Self-improvement in all our faculties, for all of us, through all time, for the greatest good of all people—this is the chautauqua idea, a divine idea, a democratic idea, a progressive, a millennial idea.

"It is the mission of the C. L. S. C. to enrich and render more attractive and useful our domestic and social life, to increase our appreciation of the opportunities offered to all of us by the civilization in which we live, to turn into educational opportunities the minutes of leisure scattered through a busy life, to relieve the monotony of a life of manual labor in field or shop, or home, to keep us in touch with our children, and with our neighbors' children, to make church and religious life more sane, interesting and useful, and finally, to make home a preparatory department to the university so that the children may from their earliest schooling be familiar with the pathway of culture from that first grade in the university of life to the end.

"Chautauqua insists strenuously and persistently on the possibilities of education in the later years of life—men and women of sixty being at their best as interpreters of life, its significance, its demands, its intellectual possibilities. Large experience is better able than youth to interpret history as already recorded and history as it is making."

We are arranging for a C. L. S. C. in Ardmore, and the hearty co-operation of some of our ministers and educational leaders indicates that much enthusiasm may be developed. The Episcopal and Presbyterian ministers, Revs. Keicher and Weith, will conduct an inspiring vespers service to bring this intellectual movement before the people. Bishop Vincent says: "Blessed are the people and blessed the church whose pastor is always intent on making thinkers of his hearers—stimulating them by sermons that take hold of them, by books and papers that he scatters, by habits of home-reading and conversation that he forms or fosters so that they are eager to hear what he has to say in the pulpit and to read the literature which his ingenuity and intense earnestness scatter through the homes of his parish."

The address at this service will be made by Mr. C. W. Richards, superintendent of schools. We read in A. Conan Doyle's advice to a young man that "a very little reading will give a man such a knowledge of geology, for instance, as will make every quarry and railway cutting an object of interest. A very little zoology will enable you to satisfy your curiosity as to what is the proper name and style of this buff-ermine moth, which at the present instant is buzzing around the lamp. A very little botany will enable you to recognize every flower you are likely to meet in your walks abroad and to give you a tiny

LORENA MATHEWS TRIAL AT GUTHRIE

ACCUSED OF COMPLICITY IN HER HUSBAND'S DEATH—JOINTLY WITH NEGRO.

Guthrie, Okla., Sept. 8.—The trial of Mrs. Lorena Mathews began in the district court today and will occupy most of the week at least. She is charged jointly with James Chapman, negro, with the murder of Lawrence Mathews, her husband, on the night of December 8, 1908.

Chapman is serving a twenty-five year sentence, and will be used as the principal witness for the state. The day was taken up with the selection of the jury and the statements of prosecution and the defense. The hearing of the evidence will be started Tuesday morning.

The jury selected is composed of William English, farmer, living at Marsh; Fred Wagner, farmer, near Guthrie; L. J. Good, farmer, Crescent; A. P. Tyler, farmer, near Guthrie; Robert Hancock, farmer, Cashion; A. C. Weinberger, near Coyle; Ed Murphy, contractor, Guthrie; O. F. Fowler, barber, Guthrie; W. L. Ellis, farmer, near Guthrie; W. T. Miller, farmer, Crescent; Fred Schwab, farmer, near Guthrie.

Lawrence Mathews was found dead on the morning of December 8, 1908, near the stable door on his farm near Stillwater. Mrs. Lorena Mathews at the inquest told of a noise at the stable and that her husband had gone to see what was the trouble with the mules. She said she went to sleep and did not miss him until morning. It was claimed that he was kicked on the head by the mules and had died after crawling away from their heels.

Had Poor Health.

Mathews owned a fine farm near town, but his poor health permitted him to work but little. His wife was robust and energetic, and with the help of a negro, James Chapman, she managed the farm very successfully, doing much of the work which a man should do.

Relatives of the dead man started a thorough investigation, and discovered evidence which they claimed incriminated Mrs. Mathews and the negro. She had taken her boy and girl, 11 and 13, and located at Edmondson, Alberta, and the negro followed soon.

Attempts to extradite them were fought and she succeeded in remaining in Canada, but the negro was brought back, tried in Guthrie on a charge of venue, and on December 4, 1910 was sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

Chapman told several stories, some of them implicating Mrs. Mathews, and finally the Canadian authorities sent her back, and Judge A. H. Huston, of the Logan county district court set her trial for September 8. The cases were brought to this court because of alleged prejudice existing in Payne county. The prosecution is managed by County Attorney Suman, assisted by John P. Hickman, while the prisoner has employed Moman Pruett, of Oklahoma City, and Ben F. Williams of Forman, two of the strongest criminal lawyers in the state. There are about 200 witnesses in the case and it will be the hardest fought battle of recent years in this court. Chapman will be brought from prison to testify in the case for the state, while the defense has secured several depositions from Canada for their client.

HIS THIRD ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. Masters Has Done Wonderful Work as an Ardmore Pastor.

Rev. F. M. Masters, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, has mailed out souvenir invitations to the members of his church inviting them and their friends to be present at the Sunday morning service next Sunday at 10:20 to celebrate his third anniversary as pastor of the church.

Rev. Masters has done a wonderful work in Ardmore, the church has been built up, numerically and spiritually and during his three years of work it has probably raised as much as $20,000. The annual report of the church will be made at the services next Wednesday night and when that report is made the figures touching three years' work will be compiled and published.

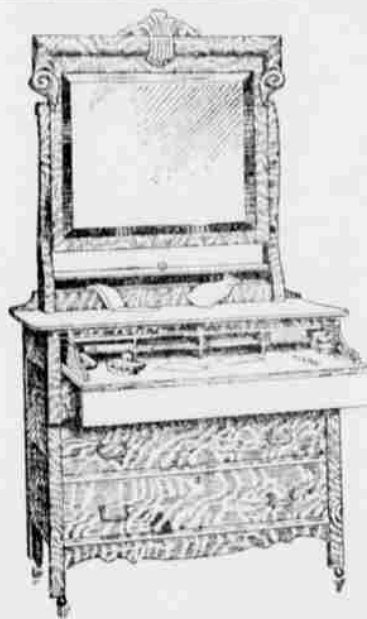

A special program is being arranged for next Sunday. Good music will be arranged for and different members of the church will make short talks recounting the victories of the Broadway Baptist church.

OSAGES TO LEASE OIL LANDS.

Oil Men From Whole Country Will Be in Pawhuska September 29.

Bartlesville, Okla., Sept. 8.—Oil men from all over the United States are expected to be in Pawhuska, September 29, when approximately 13,000 acres of land will be offered for lease by the Osage tribe in the presence of the Osage national council. The tracts will be leased in lots of from forty to 160 acres with a sixth royalty. Experienced oil men declare that Osage county, where hundreds of thousands of acres of land have never been drilled, will be the greatest oil producing section in the mid-continent.

HOPES BRIGHT FOR INTERURBAN

DORSETT CARTER WILL MAKE CARTER COUNTY A PROPOSITION TO BUILD ROAD.

Dorsett Carter and his engineer, Col. F. C. Hand, who arrived here this morning from Oklahoma City, went over the survey of the Ardmore & Western and left at 3:16 for their home. Mr. Carter has written a letter to John S. Owens, president of the company, in which he outlines a plan which he says will be easily enough for the people of Carter county to comply with and when they have done so he assures that the proposed interurban from Ardmore via Springer, Woodford, Oil City and to Cornish will be built.

Such a road will be from 36 to 40 miles in length. After being built, the road can be electrified for interurban use. Mr. Carter is of the opinion that operated as an interurban the road would pay seven per cent dividend on the stock. A power house would be built in the gas fields of the county, where fuel is cheap.

Mr. Carter says when this line is built, the same methods can be used and an interurban can be built to Sherman.
